IFF Gender & Diversity Grants
Seminars, Workshops, Trainings & Conferences

Description

The IFF (Informatik-Forum Frauen) Gender & Diversity Grants program offers funding to participate in events such as seminars and conferences with topics related to gender and diversity in STEM fields. We also fund events that facilitate learning and improvement of computing skills, e.g. coding. The grants are awarded mainly to students of IN.TUM undertaking a Bachelor or Master degree. Doctoral candidates interested in getting funded should contact IFF directly.

The objective of this program is to empower women in computer science at TUM by providing financial support to students who are looking to sharpen their skills, get inspired by other women in STEM or expand their networks. Or to students interested in getting involved with gender and diversity topics in STEM and especially at TUM.

Application for funding is open to both male and female students!

Covered Expenses

1. Conference registration fees
2. Transport
3. Accommodation (number of days covered will be determined on individual programs)

Application Documents

Interested students should apply using the online application form. To submit your online application, you are required to attach the following mandatory documents:
