WHO WE ARE

We are a young startup aiming to help companies transition into the future of New Work. Research shows that working some days from the office and some days from home or from anywhere else can improve employee happiness and productivity. Seatti’s SaaS solution allows employees to schedule their workspaces throughout the week to foster personal interaction in a distributed workplace.

WHY WE NEED YOU

We have two exciting tech topics waiting to be put into practice. Each project is meant to conceptualized theoretically and then implemented into our operational business.

Project 1 - ML Model for automated workspace scheduling
Development of a supervised machine-learning model that predicts workspace scheduling preferences of individuals and automates user input.

Project 2 - Data Analytics Dashboard
Concept and development of an analytics dashboard, both for customers about their office usage and employee behavior, as well as internally to track customer KPIs. Incl. implementation of a data warehouse and data cleaning & analysis pipeline.

WHAT WE WANT TO OFFER YOU

- Join our founders story from the scratch and learn something new every day
- Mentoring by one of the founders & Flexible working hours
- Join us as working student, intern or team member after the project
