Vision - Who we are

ShopVibes is a Munich-based B2B SaaS start-up with the vision to make e-commerce easy by connecting brands and online shops. ShopVibes offers a platform for brands and online shops to exchange product data and images in the required format up to 90% faster based on our underlying matching technology. We started in early 2020, have successfully won our first customers and are supported by XPRENEURS and LMU EC. Now we are on a strong growth path and are looking for YOU to support our success story!

Job description – Your mission

Cloud computing and microservices are the future of modern IT architectures. Currently we are relying on docker to run our application on AWS. Together with you we want to take the next step and move parts of our architecture to an even better suited cloud architecture. With the help of additional AWS material, your mission will be to first dive deep into the possibilities of cloud computing offered by AWS. Then you will develop a target architecture and get your hands dirty by playing around with AWS and building a proof-of-concept migration of one core part of our application. No worries, resources on AWS will not be a problem ;)

What we are looking for - Your profile

✓ You are passionate about start-ups, product development and new technologies
✓ You have experience with Java and at least basic understanding of cloud architecture
✓ You have excellent communication skills, are highly motivated and a strong self-starter
✓ You are eager to learn about AWS cloud architecture
✓ Gain experience with modern cloud architecture build on AWS
✓ Join our highly ambitious start-up and play a decisive role to change the world of e-commerce
✓ Work directly with the founders to gain first-hand insights of a successful early-stage start-up

What we offer – Your benefits

✓ Modern Techstack with state of the art tools, such as Sentry, Figma & Mixpanel
✓ We live a culture of open feedback and support each other on all aspects
✓ Flexible hours, work-from-anywhere policy, team events and the option to join our team long-term
✓ Gain experience with modern cloud architecture build on AWS
✓ Join our highly ambitious start-up and play a decisive role to change the world of e-commerce
✓ Work directly with the founders to gain first-hand insights of a successful early-stage start-up
